

A3

33. (New) A method of treating a disease or disorder selected from the group consisting of chronic pain, drug abuse, schizophrenia, depression, central reward pathway, HIV infection, cardiovascular disease, and hypertension, which method comprises administering a therapeutically effective dose of a pharmaceutical composition of claim 29.

34. (New) A method of treating a disease or disorder selected from the group consisting of chronic pain, drug abuse, schizophrenia, depression, central reward pathway, HIV infection, cardiovascular disease, and hypertension, which method comprises administering a therapeutically effective dose of a pharmaceutical composition of claim 30.

35. (New) A method of treating a disease or disorder selected from the group consisting of chronic pain, drug abuse, schizophrenia, depression, central reward pathway, HIV infection, cardiovascular disease, and hypertension, which method comprises administering a therapeutically effective dose of a pharmaceutical composition of claim 31.

REMARKS

The specification has been amended to make reference to the prior applications.

Claim 32 has been amended to eliminate multiple claim dependencies.

Claims 33-35 have been added.